Emergency Defensive Devices

Protecting ones family, neighborhood, and personal property becomes a high priority in emergency crisis situations. Besides numerous physical type weapons (guns, mace, etc.) one can often affectively discourage and stop intruders with devices that attacks the senses of hearing and sight.

- Marine Air horn – this is one of the most effective defense devices you can use. The intensity of the blast causes the targeted individual at close range to be overwhelmed and dysfunctional. It also draws attention to the situation.
- Siren – good deterrent and neighborhood warning device.
- Whistle – simple, easy to carry, draws attention.
- M40s – causes fear and confusion.
- Bright flashlight (1000 + lumens) – can be very disruptive.
- Bright strobe light - cause confusion.
- Stun gun or Taser device – cause serious dysfunction.
- Bear spray, mace, and pepper spray – affective up close, can be a problem in the wind.
- Shot gun - 12 or 20 gage pump action, short barrel (Remington 870 or Mossberg 500 recommended). Have various loads from 00 to 7 shot.
- Hand gun - Smith & Wesson M&P 9mm or .357 Revolver and 100 rounds
